

Treaty of GUADALUPE HIDALGO

A Living Document

Saturday, February 12, 2011

Public Symposium 8:30 a.m. - 12:45 p.m.

Teacher Workshop 8:30 - 3:45 p.m.

Free & Open to the Public

@ Center for English as a Second Language Auditorium

(one building east of Arizona State Museum)

Public Symposium

Signed Feb. 2, 1848, the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo ended the Mexican/American War. This living document continues to shape the lives of many communities. Join scholars in a discussion of the treaty's continuing impact. Speakers: Dr. LM Garcia y Griego, Daniel Vega, Tupac Enrique Acosta, Dr. Enrique Lamadrid, and Dr. Michael Brescia. Speaker bios at <http://www.statemuseum.arizona.edu/public/>

Photo courtesy National Archives

Teacher Workshop

For teachers the program continues in the afternoon. The session explores ways to engage students with the treaty and its modern-day significance. Teachers receive lunch, six professional development hours, and a resource packet. Free but registration is required. Information about workshop presenters and registration at <http://www.statemuseum.arizona.edu/edu/>

See original articles from the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo at Arizona State Museum February 2-28.

These documents are on loan from the National Archives in Washington, D.C. and brought to Tucson by Amistades, Inc.

This program is offered in collaboration with Amistades, Inc., UA's Center for Latin American Studies, Tucson Unified School District's Mexican American Studies, and the UA's Office of the Vice President for Research

Arizona State Museum
THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA®

Celebrating the Enduring Cultures of the Southwest

Prevention and Cultural Competence